A ONE DAY WORK SHOP ON LSRW SKILLS, PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT AND CLASS ROOM MANAGEMENT
BY DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH

The Department of English has organized a one day workshop for students on learning, speaking, reading, writing skills and personality development on 1-3-2014 in PG e- classroom of the PG block.

The workshop is divided into two sessions. In the morning session sri M.Nagaraju,retired lecturer and an identified resource person has imparted training to selected students in LSRW skills. Since, it is a workshop, all the selected students have participated in discussions very actively and enthusiastically.

The principal prof S.Limba Goud has given his presidential message in the inaugural session of the workshop and inspired the students by explaining how important English Language is in the present world of stiff competition. He said that Girraj Government college has become a role model for other colleges in organizing national seminar and workshops . he congratulated the department of English for organizing a workshop not only for students but also for staff members

The Incharge of English Department and the convener of the workshop Sri.N.L. Narasimha Rao presented the objectives and aims of the one day workshop. He said that the workshop is divided into two sessions. In the morning session training is imparted to the students LSRW skills and personality development. Training in LSRW skills is imparted by Sri.Nagaraju retired lecturer and an identified resource person. Training in personality development is imparted by Sri.A.Bhujangam for this workshop meritorious student have been selected from different classes

In the afternoon session, Sri.M.Nagaraju conducted a workshop for all the lecturers of the college in “classroom management and student centric teaching methods”. All the lecturers have participated very enthusiastically and actively in the workshop.

Sri.M.Nagaraju used PowerPoint presentations in the both the sessions while conducting the workshop. The response from the students in the morning session and from the staff members in the afternoon session is very encouraging. Sri.M.Nagaraju encouraged the students, who have participated in the discussions by giving presentations like pens etc.

While explaining the objectives of the workshop, the incharge, department of English said, if the students want to avail themselves of global opportunities, where global job markets are thrown open to the Indians with good English knowledge, they have to improve their LSRW skills and Soft skills.

Sri.M.Nagaraju has demonstrated many student centric teaching methods.

Thus the one day one workshop is conducted both for the students and the faculty members in two sessions. The workshop ended successfully at 6 PM with a vote of thanks by Ms.N.Suhasini, faculty member in English.
